Source ADiversity in the UK

The England men's cricket team won the World Cup in 2019. The captain, Eoin Morgan, praised the team for being a great example of diversity. He said the team's diverse backgrounds were a great strength.

Morgan had previously played for Ireland. He was asked if the 'luck of the Irish' helped England to win.

He responded: "We had Allah with us as well."

England also won the Wheelchair Rugby League World Cup in 2022. The final of the Wheelchair Rugby League World Cup was shown on the BBC. It was watched by 1.3 million viewers.

Wheelchair Rugby League is considered the most inclusive sport of all. This sport is not solely a disability sport. Disabled people, non-disabled people, men and women can all play in the same team.

Describe how respect for diversity is encouraged in UK society.

Source BThe role of the media in the UK

In autumn 2022, the Daily Star newspaper described the Prime Minister, Liz Truss, as 'blundering'. Her economic policies had made her very unpopular.

The newspaper's coverage of Liz Truss compared her to a lettuce. The newspaper created a live feed of this lettuce and said that Liz Truss would resign as Prime Minister before the lettuce wilted. There had been 1.7 million views of the live feed by the time Liz Truss resigned. She was Prime Minister for 49 days.

The Daily Star said the lettuce had outlasted Liz Truss because she had been responsible for 'the worst spell in charge on record'.

With reference to Source B, discuss how the media in the UK can influence public opinion.

In 2022, leading Brexit supporter Lord Wolfson claimed that the UK economy was suffering from a labour shortage.

The Conservative Party peer said this labour shortage was caused by a lack of foreign workers following Brexit. He said:

“We have got people queuing up to come to this country – to pick crops that are rotting in fields and to work in warehouses that otherwise wouldn’t be open. But we’re not letting people in.”

Discuss the ongoing implications of the UK’s former membership of the EU.

Source DStop and search

A report into the power of the police to use stop and search found that:

- Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic people were over four times more likely to be stopped and searched than White people
- police in the UK fail to record ethnicity data consistently
- most searches are 'self-generated', meaning a police officer decides to carry out a search 'on the spot'
- the most common reason for a stop is 'drug possession'. However, only a quarter of these stops actually recover any drugs.

Discuss two features of stop and search which make it a controversial police power.

Source EThe role of solicitors

Solicitors represent and defend clients' cases. They also provide advice, for example:

- on everyday issues, such as buying and selling homes
- on protecting individuals' rights, making sure they're treated fairly by public or private bodies.

A solicitor's work can be divided into:

- resolving disputes between two or more parties
- dealing with legal aspects of a client's personal issues, for example making a will.

A solicitor's duties include:

- researching cases
- drafting letters, contracts, wills and other legal documents
- representing clients.

Compare the role of solicitors and barristers.

Source GRecruiting under 18s to the British Army

The minimum age for joining the British Army is 16. The UK is the only country in Europe which recruits people under 18. The recruitment of minors (those who are under 18) has been criticised by the United Nations.

Legally, 16-year-olds are not recognised as adults. Yet, a contract to join the army which they sign as a minor will legally bind them for up to 6 years.

Referring to Source G, discuss the problems associated with recruiting under 18s to the British Army.
